SEASONAL PRICE & DAYS ON MARKET

Median prices ranged from $715K to $982.5K, holding near $825K with no strong seasonal driver. Days on market are more cyclical: fastest around Apr/May and slower into winter.

SEASONAL ACTIVITY - LISTINGS vs. SOLD

New listings peak each spring, topping out at 339 in Apr 2026 before tapering into Dec lows. Closed sales follow the same rhythm and settle near 100/month outside peak season.

SEASONAL PRICING POWER - $/SQ.FT. & RATIO

Price per sq. ft. climbed from $546.84 to $631.59, averaging around $590 with modest Mar/Nov dips. Sold-to-list ratio holds near 0.985, strongest in early spring and softer by summer.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Spring is the market's busiest season, with the highest listing and closed-sale activity concentrated in March and April.
- Turnaround time is lowest around Apr/May, and the sold-to-list price ratio stays healthy, making spring a strong time for sellers.
- July is unique: the sold-to-list price ratio softens, yet price per sq. ft. rises and median sold price peaks.
- Sales concentration is office-led; the only top agent result is Jonathan Minerick, with 1 sale in the last 3 years.

Seasonality View

Jan-Apr include 2024-2026; May-Dec include 2024-2025.
